

Timber Is Precious
Don't Burn Ground
That It Lives on

I have a communication from Buster A. Denton, District Forester, Unit 6, of Delight, Ark., calling attention to the fact that Governor McMath has designated the week starting Monday as "Keep Arkansas Green Week."

The forester wants me to write an editorial about it—but he does a pretty good job on his own. Here are his notes:

"If you please, will you base your story on or around the idea that thousands of acres of farms in Arkansas that are generally considered waste land are being burned over this year by the farmers themselves. Many of these acres have a fair stand of young pine on them which is completely destroyed when it is allowed to burn."

"Understand, of course, we aren't criticizing the farmer for doing all the burning. But we do know lots of acres that aren't suited for pasture or agriculture on any farm would eventually be covered in pine forest if only the farmer wouldn't continue his own burning."

"All farmers aren't guilty of this act. Many of them regard their patches of woods as a common crop."

"But in view of the fact that a lot of land on most of our farms is waste land we should all be reminded that these acres ought to be put to work."

"An editorial in your paper around the above-mentioned facts would certainly carry a lot of weight in influencing farmers to be more careful with their burning."

That's what the man said—Buster A. Denton, district forester, of Delight, Ark.

An all I've got to add is this: A giant paper mill is coming up for our section, presumably located near Prescott. It will raise land values all over southwest Arkansas. And it will intensify the demand for pulpwood—the quickest timber crop of all. "Idle acres" and "waste land" produce pulpwood. Remember that, when you're tempted to follow tradition and burn over small woods this Spring.

Would Include
GOP in Foreign Policy Issues

Washington April 1 —(P)—A suggestion that President Truman could salvage the nation's bipartisan foreign policy by inviting Republicans to join in decisions on world problems was advanced today by Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.).

Ferguson's proposal was made to reporters as other Republicans pulled out the stops in a bitter counter attack on the President's assertion that at least three GOP senators are sabotaging foreign policy by attacks on the state department.

One of these, Senator Bridges of New Hampshire, called for a showdown. American policy "is presumably aimed at Russia," he said.

Bridges said adding: "I believe it is time to tell the American people the truth about this policy and how we are losing the cold war."

Ferguson said there is no reason why the President couldn't call in Republican as well as Democrats "when there is a decision of major importance in the offing."

"These policies should be discussed fully with senators," he said. "Even with some of those opposed to them. Certainly the secretary of state could talk to senators about them, and at times the President himself."

Ferguson said that little reciprocity he has found very little disposition on the part of administration officials to discuss problems with Republicans in advance of decisions.

Bridges' statement was made in response to Mr. Truman's assertion at a Key West Fla., news conference Thursday that Bridges and Senators Wherry (R-Neb) and McCarthy (R-Wis) were helping the Kremlin by attacks on the state department.

Eisenhower Has
3-Point Plan for U. S. Defense

Washington, April 1 —(P)— General Dwight D. Eisenhower today proposed a three-point program for stiffening the nation's defense.

Senator Elmer Thomas (D-Okla.), who received the written recommendations of the wartime Allied commander in Europe, told a reporter they call for:

1. Strengthening Alaska and its major airfields against surprise airborne attack, by a permanent force of well-trained and equipped ground troops and a radar screen to detect and warn against air forays.

2. Assurance that the 48-group first-line air force is equipped with the most modern aircraft and backed up by a powerful reserve of 12 well-equipped air national guard groups.

3. Sufficient funds for the navy to start a special anti-submarine force, including destroyers, small aircraft carriers, aircraft and other special equipment.

Thomas said the letter fulfilled Eisenhower's promise to senators to spell out changes he would make in President Truman's $14,000,000,000 defense budget for the 1951 fiscal year starting July 1.

Eisenhower, now president of Columbia university, appeared at a public session of the senate armed services committee on Wednesday and mentioned these programs without putting a priority upon them.

Thomas, chairman of the appropriations group, said he will support the Eisenhower proposals, recalling that the general had estimated they would "cost from three to five hundred million dollars, part of which might be saved by trimming other items."

"What we are doing is getting ready for war," Thomas said. "Russia is doing the same thing but if we get ready we might be able to prevent it."

If we had not done what we have, we would have been in war long before now. Aid to Europe, the North Atlantic military pact and other moves have the Russian leaders on their ear."

Thomas noted that all of the Eisenhower proposals were prompted by concern over U. S. relations with Russia.

Jim Bearden
Plans to Run for Sheriff

Former Sheriff Jim Bearden indicated today that he is getting ready to file as a candidate for sheriff, the only Hempsstead office which has opposition. Three other candidates already have filed for the post.

Mr. Bearden said he had been solicited to run by many people over the county and "you can say I'm ready to throw my hat in the ring because Hempsstead needs sheriff."

"Of course nobody has twisted my arm off but I notice all the other candidates still have both their arms also. I intend to file within a few days," he concluded.

Czechs Say
Priests
Plead Guilty

Prague Czechoslovakia, April 1 —(P)—Two of ten high-ranking Roman Catholic clergymen charged with high treason pleaded guilty yesterday in this country's first mass trial of churchmen the official Czech news agency announced.

Six of the ten clerics—accused also of espionage for the Vatican and plotting overthrow of the government—had testified by the end of the opening day. Three of them, the news agency said pleaded innocent and one admitted "partial guilt" as having been "associated" with anti-state activities.

The two who confessed guilt to high treason were identified by the news agency as Abbot Bohumil Vit Tajovsky of the monastery at Zeliava in central Bohemia, and Abbot Augustin Machalka of the monastery at Nova Rise. Abbot Machalka also was said to have confessed to spying for the Vatican.

The news agency reported that "foreign and domestic news correspondents" attended the trial. However representatives of Western news agencies were refused admittance yesterday because, they were told no more tickets were available.

The first announcement of the trial was in a broadcast yesterday morning over the controlled Czech radio.

The news agency said pleas of innocence were entered by Frantisek Silhan provincial (director) of the Order of Jesuits in Czechoslovakia; Jesuit Adolph Kalpr and Stanislav Bartak, of Nova Rise. Frantisek Mikulsack a Jesuit in Prague reportedly pleaded "partial guilt."

Others on trial, the news agency said, are Sylvester Bratko professor of theology at Olomouc university; two monks of the Order of Redemptorists Theodore Matlak and Jan Blesik, and a Franciscan Joser Urban. They were expected to take the witness stand today.

Abbot Machalka was quoted as testifying that he was involved in the "gathering of firearms and the distribution of illegal leaflets" for an anti-state campaign shortly after the Communist coup of February 1948 which put the present regime in power.

Mr. Bearden said he had been solicited to run by many people over the county and "you can say I'm ready to throw my hat in the ring because Hempsstead needs sheriff."

"Of course nobody has twisted my arm off but I notice all the other candidates still have both their arms also. I intend to file within a few days," he concluded.

Arkansas Youth
Coming Home With Legs and Arms

Newark, N. J. April 1 —(P)— Little Eddie Thompson born without arms and legs, is going home to Arkansas today able to stand erect.

Freddie who was two years old yesterday, has been at the Kessler Institute for Rehabilitation in West Orange where he was equipped with "stubbies," little plastic stumps attached to a corset like harness at his hips.

He has learned to stand and balance himself and will go home to Magnolia, Ark. with his mother Mrs. Jean Thompson. Work on arms for the blond blue-eyed youngster may be started in two years or so.

Mrs. Thomas says he is able to pick up things with his teeth.

The boy's plight was brought before Dr. Henry I. Kessler when Mrs. Claude Rosenbaum, a registered nurse of Magnolia, a friend of the Thomasons read of a similar case that was treated successfully.

The Magnolia Kiwanis club financed three trips to the West Arange Institute for Freddie.

"Since then kindness and help has come from all parts of the country," Mrs. Thomason said.

The Park Avenue Hillbilly
Has Own Ideas About a Man,
She Is Still Single Too

By HAL BOYLE

New York —(P)— Dorothy Shay would like to settle down and have four children.

The "Park Avenue hillbilly" has traveled some 15000 miles in a 40-week tour of the nation's supper club circuit. That makes a home and marriage sound mighty restful.

But Miss Shay, whose gusty tunes have skyrocketed her to the top income brackets has found it easier to sing about "that man" than to find him in real life.

"I'm an eligible bachelor girl," she grimaaced, "but if you put it that way it sounds like I'll pay all the bills."

And that's one of her troubles. When a girl earns up to $5000 a week or more she still wants to be loved for herself alone — not just as a meal ticket for a lazy male gold digger.

"When a man starts talking to me about things like community property laws, I just naturally lose interest," said Dorothy.

What kind of man does she want? Miss Shay talked about that as she waited to start her evening show in the Waldorf's Wedgwood Room.

You think of so many things wrong with them while you're going with them," she smiled. "After your first romance, you get out of tall dark and handsome ideas out the window."

Usually I don't care particularly for handsome men — they're vain. I don't like them sloppy either.

Subpoena Is Suggested for McCarthy's File

Washington, April 1 —(P)— Two Republican lawmakers took exception today to a Democrat's talk of issuing a subpoena for Senator McCarthy's documents on the Owen Lattimore case.

McCarthy, Wisconsin Republican, has said he can produce proof that Lattimore (1) is a Soviet agent and (2) is or has been a member of the Communist party. Lattimore, an American expert on Far Eastern affairs, has called the McCarthy charges "an unmitigated lie."

Senator Green (D-R.I.) said yesterday in Providence that if McCarthy has such proof he should turn it over to the senate foreign relations subcommittee which is investigating McCarthy's charges that the state department is harboring communists and fellow travelers.

If the Wisconsin senator won't produce the documents, Green said, it would be logical for the inquiry group to order him to do so. Green, acting chairman of the committee, said he would discuss the matter with other members on his return to Washington.

Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) told a reporter he believes the committee has no right to subpoena McCarthy's material.

"I think the committee should see the documents," Hickenlooper declared, "but I don't think there is any basis or precedent for subpoenaing material a senator uses in a senate speech."

Senator Bridges (R-NH), not a member of the committee, commented:

"I have never yet heard of senators resorting to service of a subpoena on another senator. I am sure that if the committee applies itself diligently it will get the full cooperation of Senator McCarthy—without a subpoena."

McCarthy outlined his charges against Lattimore in a senate speech Thursday.

The senator's office said he had not turned over to the inquiry committee the documents which he told the senate would lead to proof of his contentions about Lattimore. McCarthy himself has indicated to reporters that he might not let the committee have a look at them.

But McCarthy's office reported that he has supplied all of the Lattimore data to the FBI.

Lattimore is returning from a United Nations mission in Afghanistan to make a formal reply to McCarthy's charges. He is scheduled to go before the inquiry group at a public hearing on Tuesday.

In his senate speech, McCarthy said he could produce a witness who would back up his charges against Lattimore. Although the witness was not named, McCarthy described him as a man who was a member of the Communist party for years and who was "high up in Communist circles."

Census Takers
Start Vast Job Today

Washington April 1 —(P)— An army of census takers starts the vast job today of counting the people of the United States.

Even before the returns are in from the 17th — the biggest nose-count in the nation's history, officials have a pretty good idea what it will show for the total population: About 150,000,000 plus another 4,000,000 or so in the territories and possessions.

But the 14500 census takers are seeking other information as well, in their once-every-ten-years door-to-door quiz: Your name address age sex, race marital status occupation income whether you own your own home. . . about 60 basic questions in all.

The farm census forms which went out by mail about a week ago contain some 300 questions but a farmer will have to answer only those which apply to him.

The question about income — which will be put to one out of every five persons — has stirred considerable Republican wrath. But census bureau officials say similar questions have been included in the census for 100 years.

President Truman in a census proclamation issued two weeks ago declared that "no person can be harmed in any way by furnishing the information required" adding that it won't be used for such things as taxation investigation or law enforcement.

By law the answers to the questions can be used only for statistical purposes and must be kept strictly confidential otherwise.

Officially the reason for the census is to determine anew how many house members will be allotted to each state. The number is based on a population count. California is expected to be the big gainer this year pacing up about seven seats.

Census takers figure to finish their big house-to-house job in about two weeks in the cities and in about two more in rural areas. It will take until around Dec. 1 to add up the population figures and months more to tabulate the other statistics.

Officials estimate the whole job will cost about $800,000,000 — twice as much as it did ten years ago. The enumerators are expected to count about 1100 persons apiece taking about 10 minutes for each call and traveling a total of more than 250,000,000 miles to do the job.

Catholics Plan
Holy Week
Ceremonies

The ancient Holy Week ritual of the Catholic church will be carried out in its entirety this week at Our Lady of Good Hope church.

Father A. G. Dunleavy, pastor will sing a High Mass Thursday morning at 8 o'clock, the feast of the institution of The Blessed Sacrament at the Last Supper. Good Friday at 12 noon, Mass of the Pre-sanctified will begin "The Three Hours Agony," a devotion commemorating the three hours that Christ hung on the Cross.

Saturday morning there will be the blessing of the new fire, Easter water, Baptismal font and the reading of the ancient prophecies. The Mass anticipating the Feast of the Resurrection will close the Holy Week ceremonies.

GOP Fails to Agree on Farm
Program

Salt Lake City, April 1 —(P)— Republican chiefs from the mid-west and mountain states started today door-to-door campaigns for next fall's election. But they hadn't yet agreed on a farm program designed to win agricultural votes.

Theme of their conference, which ends this afternoon seemed to be: "If we can get out the Republican vote we'll win."

"A survey I have just finished," said Ohio state chairman Ray Bliss, "shows more than 150,000 Republicans in Ohio didn't vote in 1948. President Truman carried the state by only about 5000."

"If we can perfect our organization to turn out the Republican vote we can win."

Robert K. Goodwin Iowa state chairman said the party will campaign on a farm-to-farm basis in his state's rural areas.

Given an "aggressive platform" he said, the Republicans can attract independent voters.

National Chairman Guy Gabrielson urged the state chairmen and vice chairmen representing organizations in 19 states; to make full use of young Republican groups and women's organizations.

Most of the state chairmen declared to discuss a long closed-door session held yesterday afternoon on the farm program. Tom Coleman of Wisconsin said it was "spirited" and intended to organize thinking that would develop into a definite program later.

Wayne Hood Wisconsin state chairman, said "we in Wisconsin want a farm program that will be fair not only to all farmers but to all Americans."

"There is one thing that we will not subscribe to in Wisconsin," he added. "That is any farm program which will provide fines or jail penalties for any farmer who wants to farm independently of a controlled farm economy."

Gabrielson said at a press conference that there is "no question" but what Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio will be reelected.

Gabrielson also reported Republican finances have taken a turn for the better, but he gave no figures.

In a speech last night Gabrielson said the state department is "sympathetic" with Communist in China and this has created a "colossal disaster" in American foreign policy.

Easter Egg
Hunt Planned for Sunday

Franklin McLarty, president of the Chamber of Commerce, announced today there would be a community Easter egg hunt held at Fair Park at 2:30 p.m. Easter Sunday afternoon. All children eight years of age and under are invited to participate in this hunt.

There will be 6500 candy eggs and in addition to the candy eggs twelve colored hen eggs will be hidden. The ten blue eggs will entitle the finder to $1. in cash for each egg found. There will be one silver egg with a cash value of $2.50 and one gold egg at a cash value of $5.

This Easter egg hunt is being financed by Meyer's Bakery and will be promoted by the Chamber of Commerce. Chester Hunt has been named chairman of the committee responsible for carrying out this project.

Foreign Aid Bill
in for Rough
Time in Senate

Washington April 1 —(P)— $3,102,450,000 administration foreign aid bill passed by the house after a week of rough handling, faced fresh attacks today from both sides of Capitol Hill.

As the measure headed for senate in what administration leaders called "good shape" house opponents laid plans to launch an onslaught when debate starts on a bill providing money for the vast world recovery programs involved.

Administration leaders expressed the belief they could save the measure from serious damage either by a majority of 60 or by sailing through the house vote on a 287 to 89 vote, after a week of battling by Republicans and southern Democrats.

While its total was $270,000,000 less than the state department wanted the bill was stripped of the last moment of two administration-opposed amendments. One would have tied up $100,000,000 a total for the purchase of commodities in this country, other would have halted aid to Britain while Ireland remained rationed.

In addition the measure retained the controversial "point four" program intended to help backward friendly nations get their feet through technical assistance from the United States. However, the program was cut almost in half.

The overall purpose of the bill, which continues the Marshall plan is to provide economic aid to nations resisting communism and to help their standards of living. Communist propaganda.

The senate foreign relations committee has approved a compromise measure without the point four provision but otherwise "about the same as the house version."

The senate committee has also on the administration for more information on point four. The leaders said they are sure the bill will include the point four provision.

Regardless of what the senate does the house will get another crack at the entire measure in its Easter recess starting next day. It will have a chance to reduce the appropriations needed for the programs authorized by yesterday's bill.

Actual cash to breathe life into those programs is to be provided an omnibus appropriation bill which the house will start next week.

Rep. Torgy (R-Ohio), who filed earmark -1,000,000,000 of the bill's money for the purchase of surplus foods from the agriculture department told newsmen he will try to cut "another quarter a billion" from the actual appropriation.

Truman Ready to Answer
Census Taker

Key West, Fla. April 1 —(P)— Harry S. Truman faces the question of the census taker today.

The White House said the president has no intention of answering any of the queries that will come from all other Americans' enumeration of the population.

The President is to be in his wife and daughter's company later in the day. They are to train to Miami from Washington and will motor the 137 miles from Miami to Key West, accompanied by Rear Admiral Dennis, the President's aide.

Some time this afternoon census taker — a local drop around to question of them.

It is the first day of taking called for by the President's explanation, he pledged that they would be confident they could not be used for tax criminal investigations. It was the duty of all to do.

He invited the census takers around on opening day. He gave an example for other census takers.

Plenty of Ways to Avoid Wear on a Garment

To avoid wearing out of any garment, whether made of durable cloth or not, home demonstration, agent, Lorraine Blackwood, says to avoid any constant rubbing on the cloth. Often, even unnoticed rubs may cause holes that are expensive to mend.

For example, she explains that keys or a billfold carried in the hip pocket of a man's trousers day after day will finally wear a hole through the pocket and outer cloth. Overfilling pockets stretches them out of shape and sometimes even tears the corners.

On office chairs even thin pads helps prevent shine on the seat of trousers, Mrs. Blackwood emphasizes.

Wide belts often cause a quicker wear on belt loops. A narrow belt that slips through the loops easily will prevent needless wear.

Trousers that are a little too long wear out more quickly on the lower edge of the cuffs. It pays to have them one-half inch above the heels, according to the home demonstration agent.

How in Framing Peace Treaty Lied Nations

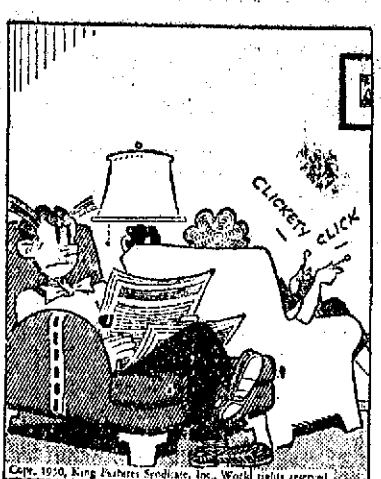

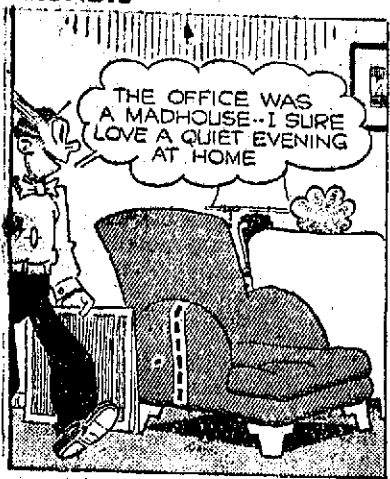

tion of close supervision. In course, nobody proposes the complete withdrawal of military forces. Advocacy of an early treaty is predicated on keeping U. S. troops in Japan for security. And the rejected treaty would provide American bases in Japan.

Naturally the question of security is a paramount issue. In connection it must be kept in mind that potentially Japan is one of the world's great powers. In days to come she will play a leading part in the affairs of the Far East. And the background here is the shadow of an ambitious Asia which is out to communize the world. There is no love lost between Japan and Moscow, for she are old and bitter enemies.

Still, there can be no doubt that the Soviet union ultimately will do everything in her power to dominate Nippon.

This Red threat likely is in the minds of those who advocate continuation of America's present military control of Japan. The capital argument therefore seems to revolve about the question of how much control is essential in the interests of a security which will permit of Japan's development on her own initiative.
